Bridging the World

The Dutch airline company KLM celebrated their 75 year anniversary.
There was a competition about finding the best project involving travel.
The theme was "Bridging the World".

My project was to let children from all over the world fly to Chicago attending an art workshop called "Bridging the World" at the Chicago Children's Museum.
The children's' art works from the workshop were supposed to be exhibited afterwards at the Chicago Children's Museum.

Here is the logo of the project which was presented to the jury.

I won a price. I believe it was in 1995.
