An excellent abstract!

Excellent.

Gorgeus powerful creation!!!!

Gorgeous and magnific creation Asbjorn!!!

MAN ! OOO! MAN! THIS IS GREAT!!! TOTALLY INSANE BUT REALLY COOL...I LOVE IT...VERY DIFFERENT FROM YOUR USUAL THINGS IN HERE...WOW! EXCELLENT USE OF COLORS AND FANTASTIC FREEDOM...LIKE A COLOSSAL CATHARSIS. SINCERELY CB

1 Cathedral Square, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by architecture.

Inspired by the headquarters of a financial institution in Aarhus, Denmark. The building is from 1926, built by architect Axel Berg. It was the Danish National Bank. 1 Cathedral Square is Domkirkepladsen 1 in Danish.

7 North Street, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by architecture.

7 North Street - in Danish it is Nørregade 7 - in Haderslev, Denmark. That's the local headquarters of an insurance company. Haderslev belonged to Germany until 1920. You might see that in the architecture.

22 North Street, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by architecture.

Inspired by the headquarters of Jyske Bank in Haderslev, Denmark. Haderslev architecture is kind of German. We know what New Amsterdam is. But Little Hamburg might be appropriate for Haderslev. Haderslev belonged to Germany until 1920. You might see that in the architecture.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

THIS VIBRATES LITERALLY...I LIKE IT VERY MUCH...THE WHITE BUILDING AND ALL THE CRIMSON DOORS AND THE DARK WINDOWS...LIKE A HEART THAT HOLDS MANY ROOMS AND HIDDEN THOUGHTS... LOTS OF IMPACT, STRIKING USE OF COLORS...I KNOW PERHAPS YOU DIDN'T THINK OF THIS LIKE I DO...BUT THE SUBCONSCIOUS SUGGESTIONS ARE THERE...I THINK OF HUMANS AS HOUSES AND HOUSES AS HUMAN...WE ARE JUST EXTENSIONS AND DIMENSIONS OF ALL THINGS...JUST A THOUGHT...I LIKE THE WAY YOU USE BOLD COLORS AND SHAPES TO GET YOUR POINT ACROSS...BLESSINGS BE YOURS...SINCERELY CB

The Arne Jacobsen Tower, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by the tower of the City Hall in Aarhus, Denmark. Designed by the famous Danish architect Arne Jacobsen. He who designed the Ant Chair back in 1952. See about Arne Jacobsen on Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia.

Butterfly yellow, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Yellow Butterfly was used in blu in a logo to Hans Christian Andersen Festival Plays in The Funen Village in Odense, where Hans Christian Andersen was born in 1805. 2nd April to be exact.

The musical was "Thumbelina" ("Little Tiny").

this is beautiful.

Koldinghus Castle Ruin, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

By Poul Dedenroth-Schou, director of the museum:

Koldinghus - Jutland's last royal castle - has played an important role in the history of Denmark throughout the more than 700 years of its existence. It has served as a part of the border defences, as a royal residence, and as the seat of the local representatives of the Danish central government.

Following the disastrous fire of 1808, the castle ruin attracted considerable attention as a picturesque ruin, providing a popular source of inspiration for artists and poets. For more than a century, the ruin has been the object of restoration programmes and gradual conversion to a museum of cultural history and a venue for cultural activities.

Grejs Kirke, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

The church in Grejs, a small town in Eastern Jutland in Denmark. I often do a church. Doing Danish churches is like doing portraits. Each church has its own face. Some of the Danish churches are 1000 years old.

Christ, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by the large Jelling stone (in the city Jelling in Denmark) set up by the king Harold Bluetooth (d. 987). The stone is decorated with an image of Christ, and the runic inscription announces that it was Harold who united Denmark into one realm and made the Danes Christians.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

I see this!! Nice work!!!

Nice abstract, Asbjorn.

Good job.

Nice image. Excellent colours.

I like this Asbjorn!!!! Beautiful work!!!

Simple yet very attractive and eye catching!!

Shanghai Sunshine, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by a breathtaking travel to China. To Beijing, Xian, Shanghai, Hong Kong. And I remember Tiananmen Square, Wild Goose Pagoda, Longhu, The Great Wall of China and much more....

This motif is inspired by Pudong Island in Shanghai.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

Great workI can imagine the heat!

Wow this is awesome.

I think that this superb work can go as high as E 20000!

Japan Two - White Arrow, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

The director of a gallery in Madrid, Spain - with a gallery in Miami Beach in Florida - reserved one of my 25 motifs exhibited at the galleries. He asked me: "Further, I would like to recommend you to add more artworks in this price range E 3000 to E 7000 and perhaps consider creating similar artworks, using flag/national colors of all major EU and North American and principal Asian countries."

I'm designing motifs for this purpose.

I have got a lot of qualified response from ArtWanted users. I want to involve you in this process by uploading my drafts in my SANDBOX.

Please rate and comment - even more than usual.

I appreciate every single rating and every single comment.

China One - Divinity, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by Longhu Temple in Shanghai.
I have put an extra store or more on the Chinese buildings
The Chinese are closer to divinity.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

This work is gorgeous! What define the artist art it's the way peoples choose for understand the message. Realy this work define their name. But if you don't put any name we can see China too. Congratulations!

Hi Asbjörn.

You are a great guy with wonderful art.

Very impressed of your way to create..

Very,very nice.

Japan Three, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

A variation of this motif has been used as logo for Sign Service, a graphic sign company in Denmark.

China Three - The Great Wall, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by The Great Wall of China was built over 2,200 years ago, by the first emperor of China.

In Chinese the wall is called "Wan-Li Qang-Qeng" which means 10,000-Li Long Wall - 10,000 Li is about 5,000 km.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

Yes Asbjorn, you are the most special artist!!!!!!!

Very simple and powerful!

China Four - Divinity, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by Outside the Wild Goose Pagoda in Xian I had this experience of being a foreigner. Having another cultural background. Meeting people with another cultural background. Jakob - my youngest son - was 10 years of age. His hear was blond. Crew cut. I was big. With a red blond bird.

The Chinese crowded around us. Friendly. Smiling. With their bikes.

They wanted to touch Jakob.

Exactly at that moment somebody told me what Chinese people thought about our traveling in China:

"Why don't they stay home and spare the money - and buy a bike.

Or a refrigerator?"

I have put an extra store or more on the Chinese buildings

The Chinese are closer to divinity.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

Another great work!

Mmmm? I like your approach!

Japan Six - Tokyo Moonlight, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by the skyline of Tokyo and at the same time Tokyo Tower.

The skyline of Tokyo is typical in its square buildings.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

I really like this black and red one. Goes well with the buildings.

Great powerful and a flash for the mind.

So simple and nicely balanced work Asbjorn!

A fun and simple creation. Great for a logo.

Great Asbjorn!

Everest Blue, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by the highest mountain in the world, Mont (or Mount) Everest in Nepal. And the wish to climb it - soon! - Might it be like seeing a Henri Matisse exhibition at Louisiana Museum of Modern Art?

Seeing the great Master's colorful simplicity paper cut-outs, and letters telling the stories behind. Letters telling me, that he worked from 1941 to 1954 in exactly the same way that I do. A radical renewal that made it possible for Matisse to create what he had always struggled for:

"I have needed all that time to reach the stage where I can say what I want to say."

Christianity - You raise me up, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

The Essence of Christianity???

Blue Sky - Guggenheim, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Frank Lloyd Wright's masterpiece on Fifth Avenue in New York. Of course The Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum, 1071 5th Avenue at 89th Street, New York. And New York is yellow cabs, black people, white people, red light, green light, street noise, Hotel Lexington, homeless, alcohol, narcotics, penthouse, Fifth Avenue, Trump Tower, fancy restaurants, delis, Central Park, ally, backyard, Guggenheim, glory, misery, Museum of Modern Art, China Town, Rockefeller Center, millionaires, beggars, subway, Broadway, tourists, diplomats, UN, Metropolitan... Amazing how Frank Lloyd Wright's architecture is contemporary. In Chicago I saw several of his houses that looked as if they were built yesterday. One was from 1909.

The blue sky above symbolizes divinity. Frank Lloyd Wright had a rare gift, sure.

Divinity?

Piazza San Marco, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Better known to Anglophones as St. Mark's Square.

Inspired by a visit in Venice. Inspired by a stroll on St. Mark's Square, where I of course had cups of espresso, listened to violin music and bought glass from Murano.

Inspired by Basilica San Marco, The Doge's Palace - Palazzo Ducale, The tower on St. Mark's Place and sailing on the Grand Canal in Venice.

In The Companion Guide to Venice, Hugh Honour describes the Piazza San Marco as "beautiful at all times of day or night and all seasons of the year. It is one of the few delicate works of architecture that can absorb a bustling vulgar crowd without loss of dignity; a great city square which retains a feeling of animation when there are few people in it."

Napoleon called the Piazza San Marco "the finest drawing room in Europe."

One of 12 motifs granted The World of Art Award.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

Although this doesn't remind me of Venice (it feels more like New York) I like the simplicity and design of your painting. Well done!

Love the Simplicity! Well Done!

Awesome use of negative space!

This is a LOVELY Abstract! I like the Simplicity.

San Francesco, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

San Francesco is inspired by a stay in Assisi in Italy, by Basilica di San Francesco, by Basilica di San Pietro in Rome, by the dome in Siena and Santa Maria del Fiore in Florence. The gray cross symbolizes San Francesco's view of Christianity. The black cross - the top down, bottom up cross - symbolizes.....

Italy is amazing: Rome, Tivoli, l'Aquila, Sulmona, Roccaraso, Saepinum, Termoli, Vieste, Monte Sant Angelo, Manfredonia, Trani, Castel del Monte, Bari, Martina Franco, Alberobello, Locorotondo, Matera, Potenza, Paestum, Salerno, Napoli, Pompei, Siena, Florence, Venice, Ravenna, Perugia, Assisi, Spoleto.

The Vatican: The Vatican City, The Vatican Museums, The Sistine Chapel, The Vatican Basilica - Santa Pietro in Vaticano.....

1 Cathedral Square Grey, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by architecture.

Inspired by the headquarters of a financial institution in Aarhus, Denmark.

The building is from 1926, built by architect Axel Berg. It was the Danish National Bank. 1 Cathedral Square is Domkirkepladsen 1 in Danish.

Aros Art Museum, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Aros Art Museum in Aarhus, Denmark. At the moment you enter the lounge, your breath is taken away. Where am I? I'm totally confused. Suddenly I am indeed not in the middle of nowhere. I'm in New York. And the architect is renowned Frank Lloyd Wright. I'm at 1071 Fifth Avenue at 89th Street in New York. 1071 Fifth Avenue at 89th Street in New York is of course the address of Guggenheim Museum. Frank Lloyd Wright's masterpiece on Fifth Avenue was built in 1959.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

That looks awesome.

Love the simplicity and boldness of this. Great choice of shape and colour.

Adam and God, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

The thunderbird is a main character in native American culture and legends.

St. Michaelis Church, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Fredericia City in Denmark is originally a fortification. With a great history.

I'll make a series of art works from Fredericia. A few days ago I talked to the Mayor of Fredericia, who liked this thought. He suggested that I talked to the chief of Fredericia Museum. This meeting is 29 November 2005 - and that's the point of departure for this project.

In Fredericia Fortification, inside the ramparts it was not allowed to build towers on churches.

Sct. Michaelis Church was no exception.

Typical Danish Postbox.
Post Danmark is the company name.

Kloak Dæksel - Manhole Cover, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.
You might travel around the world, to China, to Australia etc. and achieve wonderful inspiration.
Or.
You might be inspired by tiny things in your domestic world. Yesterday I studied manor houses and manhole covers on my daily biking tour.
Decontextualising a Spanish critic called it.

Last week a journalist called it decontextualising, too.

Mansardhuset 1600/1650 - The mansard house 1600/1650, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.
Inspired by The mansard house 1600/1650 in The Old Town, Aarhus, Denmark.
The warehouse is a renaissance building from Jomfru Anegade in Aalborg.
It is built with a heavy timber frame and thick carved brackets. Around 1800 a mansard roof was added. This building was originally part of the merchant's property rebuilt on the Town Square of The Old Town.

The house was rebuilt in 1926 and houses the Museum shop.

The director of The Old Town was enthusiastic about this motif.

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

Good job.

Octo-Pus the Cuttlefish, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired by joy of making motifs that communicate in a very simple way.

One beautiful evening I sat at a restaurant in Venice at the brink of Grand Canal. I ordered cuttlefish. Honestly I did not know, what it was. It tasted like rubber in an ink stew.

I know now what a cuttlefish is.

And then of cause Octo-Pus is the main character in the children's book

"The cuttlefish Octo-Pus and the crab Crab-Mac-Claw".

Comments from fellow artists and ArtWanted.com visitors:

Very well done

I love the eyes.

Crab-Mac-Claw, Asbjorn Lonvig. Celebrating the World of Art Award by offering huge serigraphs on canvas.

Inspired from my love to the sea, my past as a crab catcher, from the joy of making motifs that communicate in a very simple way.

If you see the name No-Crap - it is the prior name of Crab-Mac-Claw. The second time a translator told me, that he could not be called No-Crap in American English - I gave in.

 At the exhibition "International Contemporary Exhibition" in Rome I met Jose Dali.
 Son of Salvador Dalí.
 Jose Dali exhibited motifs from Venice, where he lives, and I showed anything I had.
 I gave Jose a letter in Italian, which was intended to all Italians and all Romans.
 At the bottom of this letter there was a poster from the LUCCA project.
 He saw Crab-Mac-Claw.
 He laughed, and laughed, and laughed.....sincerely.
 He became so happy.
 From that moment I knew, that Crap-Mac-Claw is a lochey star in my prodction.
 He had just been renamed from No-Crap to Crab-Mac-Claw.
 Crab-Mac-Claw will probably become the new logo of my world wide fairy tale activities.
 On my way home - in the airport of Rome - I bought a huge book. Salvador Dalí - la vita e l'opera. I had to know more about Jose's father. Jose's background.
 I still can't imagine why Jose paints tiny naturalistic watercolor pictures with motifs from Venice?
 The only resemblance to Salvador Dalí is Jose's bird!!!!
 And then of cause Crab-Mac-Claw is the main character in the children's book "The cuttlefish Octo-Pus and the crab Crab-Mac-Claw".
